

Missouri Veteran Elected American Legion National Vice Commander 2012

MINNEAPOLIS (Sept. 1, 2011) – A former state commander of the Missouri American Legion was elected today as a national vice commander of the 2.4-million member American Legion, the nation’s largest veterans organization.

David N. Voyles

David N. Voyles, of Amazonia, Mo., took his oath of office during The American Legion’s 93rd National Convention here.

He is a member of American Legion Post 359 in St. Joseph, and has held numerous leadership positions at the Legion’s post, state, and national levels. David earned a Bronze Star, Vietnam Campaign Medal and Army Commendation Medal with valor device while serving in the U.S. Army.

David will serve a one-year term in the Legion’s second-highest elective office. He took the oath of office along with National Commander Fang A. Wong, of New Brunswick, N.J.

He is one of twelve national officers.
